State Social Welfare Body In Conference

Virginia's New Programme to Be Explained At Sessions—Dr. Kate Barrett Heard Sunday Evening.

The first business session of the Conference on State Social Work was held this morning in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. with a good attendance of delegates. Yesterday the conference convened, opening exercises being held in the afternoon when welcoming addresses were followed by a keynote address by Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, of Alexandria, one of Virginia's best known women, this detailing the progress of social work in this state.

May A. L. Roper, of Norfolk, president of the organization, who was expected here yesterday, did not come. Rev. J. T. Mastin, D. D. of Richmond, presided in his absence.

Dr. Mastin was the principal speaker this morning, explaining the functions of the new Department of Public Welfare, which by act of the Legislature, succeeds the Board of Charities and Corrections. Miss Grace Abbott, director of the Children's Bureau in Washington, and who was expected to speak of child welfare work, did not come today. Her place on the programme was taken by Miss Katherine Lenroot, a niece of Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, who delivered an able address on the work which is being accomplished about the juveniles of the state.

Hon. J. Hoge Ricks, of the Juvenile Court at Richmond, spoke urging the extension of the juvenile court system in Virginia. Miss Margaret Maxon, executive secretary of the Danville Community Welfare Association, made an address on the relation of the community to the new program.

The meeting on Sunday afternoon was largely inspirational. President Albert L. Roper, of Norfolk, Va., first session was held with the Rev. Dr. J. T. Mastin, for many years secretary of the State Board of Charities and Corrections, presiding.

The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Dr. J. N. Latham, pastor of the Main Street Methodist church, who prayed earnestly that this conference might hasten the development of God's will in the social progress of our people.

Dr. Mastin then introduced Frank Talbott, who delivered an address of welcome to the conference, which he praised for its remarkable combination of economic, religious and hy-

Abbott Forced to Drop Joe Duffy

One Glass Man Too Many Results in Necessary Reduction of Personnel.

Just at the time when Tom Abbott, manager of the local baseball team, had perfected what was considered one of the best all-round teams in the Piedmont circuit, he learned that he was carrying one too many class men, that is, players who have played more than 27 games in the higher class, and he was therefore forced to drop one of them from the personnel of the team. Besides himself, Holmes, Baker and Duffy are the three other class men. Rules of the Piedmont league limit the number of each man to three, including the manager.

After hours of deep thinking as to which of the players to let go, Manager Abbott finally has reached the conclusion that it must be Thirdbaseman Duffy. Duffy has already been dropped from the personnel of the team but is still being retained until he can be traded or sold. Abbott lined up the work of the three men and realizing the values of Holmes as a hard hitter and the fact that he is out of the best utility men in the game, concluded that he must be retained. He is now playing outfield. Baker is regarded as a great asset to the infield. Although Duffy is a splendid third baseman and a good hitter, but the management sees no way out but to let him go.

This will shift the line-up of the Tobacco Growers' team to a good third baseman can be located. The present plan is to attempt to effect a trade whereby one of perhaps two men might be secured in trade for Duffy. For the time being Regan will play third and Pitcher Harris will be put in the outer garden. Harris will probably play right and Holmes center. The changes are effective immediately and this is the way the line-up will appear in the afternoon's game with Winston-Salem.

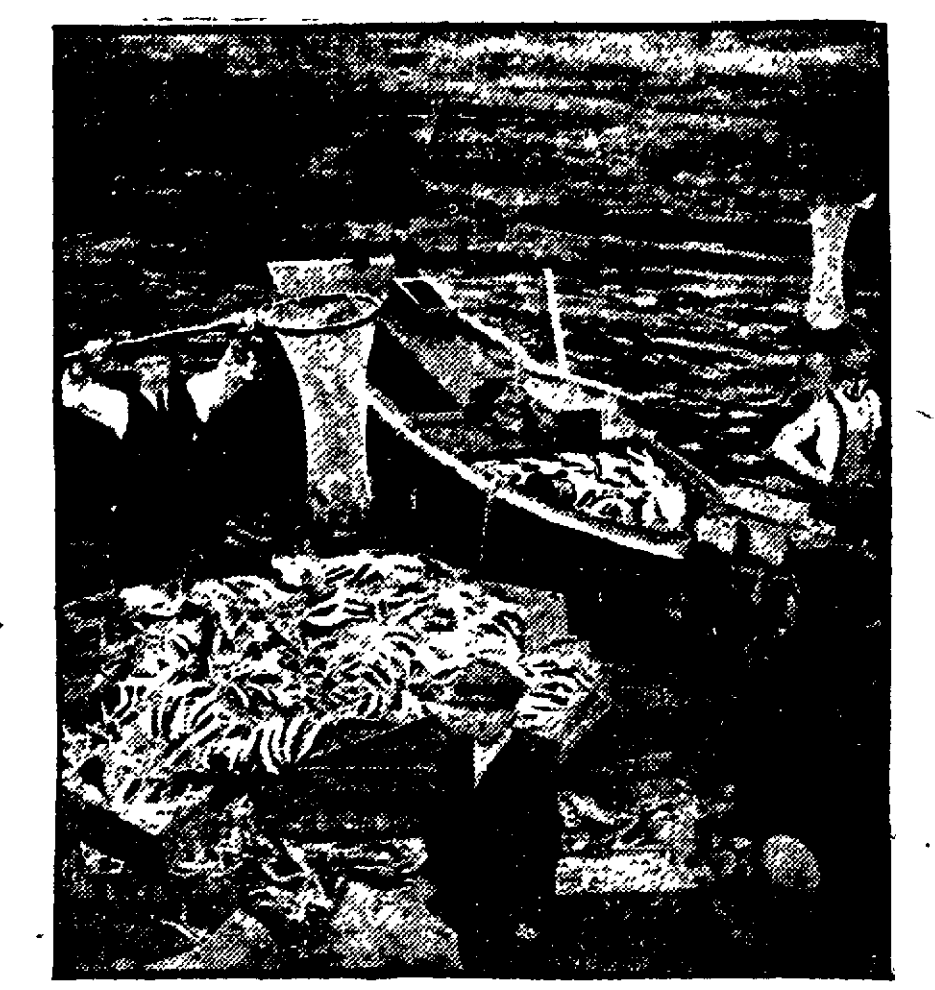

Abbott has selected Lefty Green to do the box work for the locals this afternoon against the Twins. Just who they will pitch has not been announced.

It has been learned that Winston has protested Saturday's game at that place when Danville defeated them 8 to 4. The protest was made on the grounds that Danville was carrying a four-class men.

The Twins are also carrying four-class men on their team but no protests to this effect have been made and so far as known nothing has been done to reduce to three such men.

All of the Piedmont teams have now

Stultz Promptly Cleared of Arson

Jury Decides Case Without Hearing Arguments—Commonwealth's Case Not As Strong As Was Expected.

George Stultz was acquitted of arson by a jury in the Corporation court just before adjournment for lunch. After opposing lawyers had retired to discuss instructions, Judge Withers gave oral instructions defining the law and submitted the case without arguments. The state's case did not develop the strength that was expected. Stultz himself taking the stand and explaining that the oil-soaked bed-clothing might have become impregnated through firemen or others by being thrown by mistake on a tin can of kerosene he had used to start a fire in a stove.

The jury was out only a few minutes.

George Stultz indicted for arson, was put on trial at the opening of the Corporation court today before a jury of 12 men. Stultz is charged with igniting James Huntlinger's boarding house on Main street over E. G. Anderson's clothing store on Sunday night February 5th at a time when he was in charge of the establishment. Huntlinger, his father-in-law

Allen Clan Men Hope For Freedom In Virginia Pen

From a source which might be termed close to the penitentiary it has been learned by The Bee that the four members of the Allen clan who are serving long sentences for their participation in the Hillsville court shooting, ten years ago, stand small chance of being pardoned. The pardon board is understood to have discussed the question informally but to have taken no action beyond the expression of personal views a majority of which are probably in favor of the men being kept in the penitentiary for the long term. Owing to the danger of a political issue being revived over the famous case the penitentiary authorities or those who are looked to by the state executive for advice, efforts being made to win their pardon by the circulation of petitions. There seems to be still a division of feeling over the matter.

Incidentally an interesting sidelight is shed on the four characters, Sidna Allen, the oldest of the men serving terms, Friel Allen, Sidna and Wesley Edwards, the last three younger men. Despite their long terms, the men are known against the records of any. All of them still tending to the hope that one day they may be free, but the confinement on the mountain men who roam the everlasting hills of Carroll is less palling now than it was when the men used to freedom in its fullest term felt keenly their restrictions. Sidna Allen is described by one man who sees him every week as a spiritual man, although his views are peculiarly advanced. He holds to the belief that once a Christian sin can be committed. Allen in his early days a carpenter, has for some years been a foreman in the penitentiary. He stands little chance of outliving his long term of penal servitude. Down in his heart he feels that he has suffered enough for his participation in the shooting. In his prime he was one of the richest men in Carroll county and his residence is said to have been the second finest in that county. Now, all of the fruits of his labors have been lost. The property he owned in his farming effects were long since sold to satisfy verdicts for damages instituted by relatives of the victims.

Friel Allen and the two Edwards boys have been placed as trustees in the penitentiary. At not infrequent intervals Friel, one of the younger men can be seen in Capitol park, a winsome figure feeding the squirrels. He is or was the police chairman of the town of Woods, superintendent of the penitentiary who has just resigned. While Major Woods attends meetings, Allen is allowed to roam about unmolested by the parked car.

40 Warehouses In Virginia Sign

(Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association News Service.) RALEIGH, N. C., May 6.—More than forty warehouses in Virginia have now signed up with the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, according to the latest announcement of T. C. Watkins, Jr., director of warehouses in North Carolina and over 40 in South Carolina, the association is in an excellent position to care for the majority of the tobacco in the three states when the markets open.

The campaign of the marketing association is developing great strength, according to latest reports to Raleigh headquarters, where more than a thousand contracts have been secured within three weeks.

Enthusiasm in the campaign throughout Eastern Carolina is reaching a high pitch at some points. The business men of Goldsboro have formed teams to canvass every rural mail route leading to a hope of 90 per cent sign-up in Wayne county.

Crowded mass meetings in Washington, N. C., Beaufort, N. C., Durham, N. C., and other counties of both eastern and western North Carolina have resulted in intensive drives which will unquestionably result in a largely increased membership.

A new factor of strength in the campaign of the growers is the leadership of experienced warehousemen in gaining new signers to the contract.

Martinsville May Have a Woman Council Aspirant

Interest is already being shown in the municipal election to be held in Martinsville on June 13th for town officers. Mayor G. A. Brown is thus far unopposed, but there are several candidates for council. The first three names for council being new aspirants.

Police Episode Will Be Probed

Officer's Scheme Lands Bootlegger

The usual accumulation of cases on the police docket over Saturday and Sunday required more than an hour for their disposal in the mayor's court this morning.

John Hunt was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $50 and costs on a charge of selling whiskey. A scheme by Police Officer A. C. Morgan which worked to perfection resulted in the man's arrest. He took the number of a $1 bill, gave it to Walter Mills and asked him to go to Hunt and buy some whiskey. Mills got the liquor and turned it over to the officer who went to the store and bought the whiskey. The $1 bill he had given Mills, Mills when called upon to testify was unwilling to do so. He refused to answer questions put before him and did so only when the mayor threatened to put him in jail. By close questioning Mr. Morgan was then brought out that he went to Hunt, bought the whiskey and then gave it to the officer. Something over a gallon of liquor was found in Hunt's house when it was searched. Hunt denied that he knew the man who was arrested. George Saunders, colored, was fined $5 and costs for an alleged assault on Josephine Darden, a negro. The woman charges that Saunders slapped her face. Saunders said that he merely pushed her aside after she had tried to persuade, and even grabbed him to force him to force him to go with her home, which he says he did not care to do.

Tom Johnson, colored, fined $10 and costs for having a razor concealed.

A fine of $5 and costs was imposed on Willie Williford for driving an automobile while under the influence of whiskey.

Joe Marshall was fined a similar amount for also running his car while drunk. Marshall was also fined $30 and costs for having a concealed weapon.

Fines of $5 each were imposed on Jennie Keen and Dreary Brown on charges of disorderly conduct.

Ethel Best, a negro, was fined $25 and costs for operating a disorderly and ill-governed house.

Gambling charges resulted in fines of $250 each being imposed on Jasper Totten, Herbert Spencer and Remos Brooks, all colored. They were caught playing dice yesterday but denied the charge in court.

J. L. Andrew was assessed $10 and costs for having a bottle of whisky in his pocket Saturday night.

Jack Fuqua fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct.

E. D. Griffin fined $15.95 for speeding.

Besides the above cases, there were a large number of drunks fined, one old offender being sent to Staunton to the asylum.

W. E. Cunningham Outbreaks In Jail Finally Be Tried Tomorrow

The trial of W. E. Cunningham, who is indicted for the malicious wounding of his wife, will take place tomorrow, a large number of witnesses for both sides having been summoned. The accused, who has been in jail since the shooting, attempted to show that he was temporarily insane when he fired two shots at his wife at the corner of Ridge and Patton streets over two months ago, neither wound being serious. Mrs. Cunningham soon recovered from the injuries sustained and also witnessed the shooting, are now living in Lynchburg, but came to Danville to appear before the grand jury and, it is understood, will testify tomorrow.

Thomas J. Muncy Dies In Roanoke

News was received here today of the death in Roanoke on Sunday of Thomas J. Muncy, United States attorney for the Western District of Virginia. Mr. Muncy, who was taken ill only a few hours before his death, was appointed to the post he held about a year ago, and was well-known here, having prior to his appointment attended numerous sessions of Federal court here in the capacity of attorney. He was named to succeed Joseph Chitwood, who was federal prosecutor under the Democratic regime.

Mr. Muncy was not here during the last session of court, Harris Hike, his associate, conducting the cases with Clarence Gentry.

Alleged Clash Between Officers at Police Headquarters Sunday Night to Be Aired Tomorrow Afternoon.

When the police commission meets at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in regular session, an investigation will be made into an episode which took place in police headquarters last night at about ten o'clock, at which time, it is alleged, a personal affray of momentary threatening proportions took place between Night Desk Sergeant Drumwright and Police Officer O. W. Bates.

The principals in the affair would not discuss the matter this morning prior to the official hearing.

Chief of Police Bell said that he had made some enquiries and that from what he could learn, Bates and possibly other officers entered headquarters with George Harris, a negro, who was caught near Hilltop Sanatorium with a revolver concealed in his pocket with which offense he was charged. The negro was disarmed and his money was taken from him before being put in jail. The chief said that he had learned that the money was turned over to Drumwright but not the pistol, and that when the night sergeant, who is supposed to take charge of prisoners, was called to the jail, he asked about the pistol, Bates made some remark about "not seeing it again" which Drumwright considered a reflection on his integrity. There was a "sort of tussle," after which both men were separated and nothing further ensued. The chief said that from what he could learn Bates' remark had been misunderstood by Drumwright.

Thomas Dentiste, who was in police headquarters at the time, does not recall the incident. Drumwright and Bates' Sergeant J. H. Haraway and Officers Towell and Harris were present. Dentiste confirms the elementary points given out by the police chief, adding, however, that the argument was a prolonged one and that Sergeant Haraway took some part in the discussion and took the part of Bates' according to Dentiste, the subject once dropped was revived by Haraway until Drumwright, after pointing out the chief's instructions about property from prisoners being "turned in," shook his finger in Bates' face and made a remark: "You can't call me a thief," whereupon Bates pushed Drumwright aside with the flat of his hand. It was then, Dentiste stated, that Drumwright stood back and drew his revolver.

This ugly turn in the affair resulted in Haraway, Harris and Towell disarming Sergeant Drumwright while Dentiste says he took Bates outside and that he was effectively smoothed out with no further trouble.

"LINDA LEE, INCORPORATED"

A dramatic, powerful novel of society and the movies in New York and Hollywood, by Louis Joseph Vance, author "Joan Thursday"

"Mr. Vance evidently wishes to be fair and to avoid sensationalism. More to the point and more impressive is his presentation of the way in which many, if not most, pictures are made. The book is interesting in itself and of unusual importance as a contribution to a very live question of the day."—Pangborn in the N. Y. Herald.

Most Brilliant
Of the Functions
Accorded Astor

The most brilliant and colorful and decidedly the largest of all the social functions in honor of the visit of Lady Nancy Astor to the native birth was the reception accorded her at the Confederate Memorial mansion on Friday afternoon from 5 until 6 o'clock by the group of women's organizations of the city, including the Wednesday Afternoon Club, the Shakespear Study, the Music Study club, the Business and Professional Women's club, the two chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Ladies Memorial Association, and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The stately historic old residence set in a grove of ancient oaks had been decorated with rarely beautiful and effective results under the direction of the committee of which Mrs. Walter Paxton and Mrs. H. L. Boatwright were the heads. In the four rooms of the first floor of the main building and in the rooms above occupied by organizations of a historical and patriotic character, admirable taste had been displayed in adornment. The exterior of the building, too, was bright in its decoration of United States and British flags and the Confederate colors, with streamers of patriotic bunting effectively draped also.

Within the building and particularly in the receiving rooms Southern smiles had been utilized with admirable results and peculiar appropriateness. The walls were gracefully draped with festoons of this foliage, and the opening between the two western rooms was overhung with strings of smilax which depended over the doorway. The corners of the rooms were massed with stately palms, the mantels were banked with foliage, while at every vantage point for decorative charm vases of cut flowers had been arranged, contributing charming color tones against the green background. The beauty of the leafy and blossomy decorations was enhanced by the soft glow of cathedral candles distributed there and there amidst the foliage. The main reception room, running through the building, had also been brightened and beautified by the decorator's taste, while on the floor above the ladies had spared no effort to make the appearance complete with the beauty of the first floor. On the upper floors were displayed also some of the objects of peculiar historic interest and value.

Those constituting the receiving line were Lord and Lady Astor, Mrs. Charles Dana Wilson, Mrs. Randolph Cade, Mrs. Keen, Mrs. D. J. Holcombe, Mrs. George Watson, Miss Hattie Holcombe, Miss Harriett James, and a number of out-of-town relatives of the Langhorns. Mrs. W. H. C. Cheatham, Mrs. John Lewis Berkeley, Mrs. H. C. Swanson, Mrs. Archibald D. Keen, Mrs. W. W. Williamson, Mrs. Raymond Hall, Mrs. W. W. Ayres, Mrs. T. A. Veller, Misses Eliza Harris, Annie Tucker and the young ladies serving included Misses Mary Ivy, Mary Carrington, Misses Wills Penn, Marie Penn, Mary Temple, Marion Boatwright, Mary Smith, Catherine James, Mary Spencer, Elizabeth Taylor, Mary Blair Maury, Anne and Emma Smith, Bessie Van Wageningen, Lucy Lee Fitzgerald and Miss Sue Brown of Martinsville, Va.

During the hour of the reception the old mansion was thronged with brilliant company all of whom were presented to the guests of honor. Besides many of the best known people of Danville, a large number of out-of-town guests arrived. An ice course was served by the hostess, young ladies named. So admirably had the arrangements been made and so well were they carried out that even with the large attendance there was no confusion or confusion and nothing whatever to mar the smoothness and the enjoyment of this memorable function in a structure which has sheltered beneath its roof-tree many distinguished persons.

OPERA AT AVERETT.

A most unique and enjoyable opera was given on the Averett College lawn last Tuesday evening, by the elementary department, directed by Misses Alderson and Wilson, with Misses Payne and Osborne as pianists, and Miss Hall as violinist. The very large crowd present showed an appreciation on the part of the people for the annual musical given by this department, and their generous applause evinced their enjoyment.

John Geoghegan, as Uncle Sam, and Mary Frances Shelburne, as his daughter, Columbia, were touring the world and stopped to pay a visit to the famous old town, who lived in the shoe, Mary Ragdale. With the assistance of one of her boys, James Craft, she entertained her distinguished guests with a party in which her numerous children, who belonged to the different nations of the world, sang their own Folk-Songs and danced their own Folk-Dances in their national costumes.

These talented young folk were assisted in some of the songs and dances by the College girls.

WATSON-CADMAN

WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Ask Use Of Famous
Memorial Building

The confederated Confederate organizations of this city have petitioned the council of the city of Danville to set apart and dedicate to their use and occupancy when desired the double parlors to the westward of the vestibule in the Confederate Memorial Mansion, the same to be available without cost to these societies. Conflicts of statement having developed as to the policy of the council as the governing body of the city with respect to use of this building or any of the rooms therein, the petition of the various organizations will bring the matter to a crisis and it is hoped, elicit a decision as to the matter.

The text of the petition and the names of the organizations uniting in its prayer are as follows:

We the Confederate organizations of the city of Danville, namely: The United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Ladies Memorial Association, the Cabell Graves camp, United Confederate Veterans, and the Sons of Confederate Veterans—hereby petition the City Council to set apart the double parlors known as the "Wednesday Afternoon Club-rooms," in the Confederate Memorial Mansion, which the said organizations shall have vacated them, as assembly-rooms for all Confederate organizations of this city, to be used by them for all public gatherings on Memorial Day, Lee-Jackson Day, Maury Day, Davis Day, and all other anniversaries and memorials commemorative of the sacrifices and heroism of the men and women of the '60's and of their descendants who so splendidly emulated their forefathers by like deeds of valor in the great World War; also for any State or district convention of the petitioners which may be held here, heretofore or hereafter, and for the purpose of purchasing and is to be preserved, together with its ideals and traditions, for posterity, not alone of our home but of the entire South as "The Last Capitol of the Confederacy."

This petition is signed by the Anne Eliza Johns chapter U. D. C. by Mrs. M. R. Perkins and Mrs. E. K. Perkins, Danville Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, by Mrs. A. B. Cheatham, Mrs. Annie Cabell Wooding and Mrs. John Lewis Berkeley; The Ladies Memorial Association, by Mrs. F. X. Burton and Mrs. Annie Estes; The Cabell-Graves Camp of Confederate Veterans, by Captain Harry Wooding, B. Y. Fretwell and E. M. Williamson; and by the Sons of Confederate Veterans, by George C. Temple, W. S. Morrison and Harry Wooding, Jr.

It was probably an oversight on the part of those drawing the paper not to include among its signers the officers of the Danville post of the American Legion, inasmuch as specific reference is made to them in the body of the memorial. Doubtless the Legion post would be glad to avail itself of the privilege of meeting in the old history shrine and their inclusion among the petitioners would augment the appeal of the petition.

MOTHERS' DAY TO BE OBSERVED
HERE MAY 14

Following the custom of former years, Mother's day will be observed in Danville by a mass meeting for men in Ridge Street Tabernacle on Sunday, May 14, at 3 o'clock.

The meeting this year is to be held under the joint auspices of the Ministers' Association, the Men's Federated Bible Classes, and the Y. M. C. A. The executive committee have received approval from the Junior Order of United American Mechanics will attend the meeting in a body.

The men's Bible classes of the city are expected to gather at their respective churches and march in a body to the tabernacle.

ANOTHER SOUVENIR
FOR LADY ASTOR

During her visit to Danville on Friday, Lady Nancy Astor was the recipient of an interesting souvenir of her entire trip here in the form of a picture of the room in the Sutherland residence, now the Confederate Memorial building, in which President Jefferson Davis of the Southern Confederacy held his last cabinet meeting and portraying table and chair used by him on that historic occasion. This photo-narrative, framed in Confederate picture-molding, together with a small silk Confederate flag was presented to Lady Astor by the Danville chapter U. D. C. and is a vivid reminder of the environments amid which she was entertained by the women's organization of this city. The inscription accompanying the picture reads as follows: Presented to our unrepentant Nancy, M. P. by the Danville chapter, U. D. C., May 8th, 1922. "Leave makes memory eternal."

A larger Confederate flag was given to Lord and Lady Astor by Mrs. L. E. Harvie, widow of a gallant Confederate, on hearing that Lord Astor had said that he would like to have one to fly over his residence, Chiveden, near Plymouth, England.

ROSE FESTIVAL
GREAT SUCCESS

The Rose Festival held at the Memorial Mansion, Friday afternoon, under the auspices of the Garden Club, was a great success in every way. As pre-arranged, Lady Astor graciously opened the Festival with a five minutes talk to the several thousand school children who had gathered on the lawn. As Lady Astor entered the Memorial yard, two of her little cousins, Misses Daisy Keen and Anne Withers met her, carrying baskets of rose petals, which they scattered in her path to the porch of the Memorial Mansion from which she spoke. At the conclusion of her address, little Miss Sadie Hall, daintily dressed in a white and pink ensemble, on behalf of the school children a fashionable bouquet of sweetheart and pink radiance roses, trimmed with blue tulle and ostrich feathers, with a fan of ostrich plumes replacing the stem of the bouquet.

Lady Astor then led the children to the tables where the rose bushes were distributed by a committee of ladies from the Garden Club, assisted by a bevy of Danville's young girls, including Miss Harriett James, Mary Temple, Elizabeth and Mary Maury, Eleanor Guarrant, Anne and Mary Smith, Anna Bellard, Joy Allen Hunt, Mary Carrington, Marie Penn, Marion Boatwright, Marie Wills Penn, Mary Spencer, Virginia Overby, Mary Fulghum, Barbara and Catherine James, Bessie Van Wagoner and Mary Ivy.

Astoria Day marked the first step in rose growing on a large scale in Danville. Friday was a never-to-be-forgotten day for Lady Astor, for the Danville Garden Club, and for the thousands of children who gathered on the Memorial Mansion grounds to hear her speak and to receive a rose bush through the courtesy of the Danville Floral Co., who generously gave the two thousand rose bushes.

COW MOOSE USES FEET WITH SKILL OF BOXER

In the northern and western forest regions of Canada the snow piles deeply throughout the winter. In these forests the king of the deer family, the moose,

To combat the high-piling drifts, the animals gather in little bands of from three to a dozen head and trample down the snow with their hooves. Thus, when the snow lies all around them, from three to eight feet deep, the moose have a small stretch of country packed hard, so they can get around easily to browse off the surrounding trees.

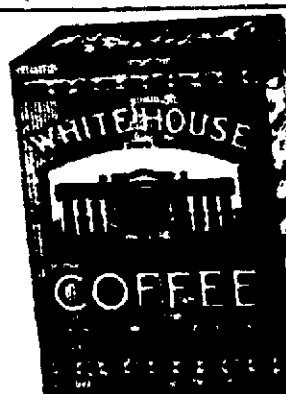

From these "yards" as they are called, the moose are at times driven by wolves or by dogs and men. The animal flounders through the deep snow until he is exhausted, and then proves an easy prey to its pursuers. Though she has no horns, the cow moose possesses dangerous weapons in her two forefeet, which can strike themselves with all of a boxer and deliver most telling blows.

LADY ASTOR THANKS
CHILDREN FOR FLOWERS

Sup. F. H. Whiskey received the following letter today from Lady Astor to the Danville and Schoolfield school children:

Dear Children:
I thank you so much for the beautiful flowers with big B's. You have been so kind to me that I can never, never forget it all.

With love, from
NANCY ASTOR.

Dry Officers
Find Moonshine
Plant Operating

Prohibition officers yesterday made two raids—one in the vicinity of Chatham and the other at Brights, near Virginia. They first visited the home of Ethel Turner, a negroess, near Chatham, where a search revealed several gallons of moonshine whiskey and a ten gallon bucket. This was taken charge of and destroyed by the officers. The raid was conducted by Federal Agents E. L. Birtling, A. A. May and Prohibition Inspector W. T. Shelton. The negroess was arrested and placed under a $300 bond. The raid occurred about 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Shortly afternoon the same officers went in the direction of Virginia. When they reached the vicinity of Brights, they discovered a complete distilling plant in an open field near the edge of a body of woods. The plant was operating in full blast. The liquor was running out but the operators had evidently fled. Although the plant was destroyed, the officers indicated that the plant had been operating for several months. The fact that the outfit was found in an open field shows that the operators were bold in their work and no doubt every drop in the neighborhood had been their activities. One reason given for moonshiners choosing an open field in which to do their work is that they are more able to see the officers approaching than they would be otherwise, if they were in a thicket, which would give the sluths ample time to creep up on them. It is presumed that in the open field, at a safe distance from the road and comparatively near a body of woods, moonshiners feel more safe so that when an officer or officers are seen coming they will have plenty of time to flee to the woods and make their escape.

—Dr. S. E. Hughes and S. J. Owen are expected home today from a vacation trip.

MISS MARGARET K. O'LEARY, of Reading, Pa., who says she has gained eight pounds and can hardly find words to express her praise for Tanlac for the good the medicine did her.

"I am so happy over what Tanlac has done for me I can hardly find words to express my praise," said Miss Margaret K. O'Leary, who lives with her parents at 1223 Chestnut St., Reading, Pa. "I wasn't exactly what I would be called sick, but for a year I had been all run down and sometimes felt so weak and miserable I could hardly hold up my head. I was so nervous the telephone bell or a door closing would startle me so I would tremble like a leaf.

"I needed something to build me up and give me strength and energy, and that is exactly what Tanlac did. It gave me a fine appetite and improved my digestion. I gained eight pounds, the color came back to my face, my nerves became normal and I soon felt as well as I ever did in my life. It is simply wonderful that medicine could make such a big change in any one. My friends and neighbors are surprised when they see me now, and no wonder, for I look like a different person. Tanlac is grand and I never intend to miss a chance to say a good word about it."

Crisis This Week In Genoa Parley

Only Russia's Acceptance of France's Terms Can Stave Off Coming Collapse.

GENOA, May 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—Gloom prevails at Genoa for this week, say many of the statesmen, and may witness the smash of the international conference on which the whole of Europe has fixed its hopes.

Only Russia's acceptance of the powers' memorandum can save the conference from disaster, as reluctantly admitted by many of the delegates. Complete acceptance is regarded as improbable and even if the Soviet delegates surprised everybody by returning an affirmative answer, Belgium and France seem determined to their rider added to the property clause.

This course by Belgium and France, if persisted in, would make an agreement with Russia increasingly difficult because the Soviets are expected to cling tenaciously to their system of nationalization.

Premier Lloyd George tonight appeared rather pessimistic in contrast to his usual buoyant mood. Nevertheless he has not lost hope, and is holding fast to the conviction that the conference can be made a success.

The text of the non-aggression pact, which may never see the light of day at Genoa, has virtually been agreed upon. It is a British proposition modified to meet the suggestions of the other powers.

It is learned authoritatively that the draft provides that after signatures at Genoa, it must be ratified by the respective governments before it becomes operative. The pact declares substantially that if one country attacks another when the other signatories shall immediately confer for the purpose of deciding upon steps to put an end to acts of aggression which threaten the peace of Europe. The consultation clause follows the lines of the four-power, Pacific pact arranged at Washington.

France has already announced that she will sign the pact only on the understanding that guarantees provided by treaties including the Versailles treaty shall be maintained and included in the pact. It is learned also that Japan insists upon the maintenance of the Versailles guarantees because of her geographical and economic relations with Siberia.

A CATEGORICAL ANSWER IS DEMANDED BY THE FRENCH

GENOA, May 7.—If the Russians do not give a categorical answer to the memorandum that has been submitted to them, France will not go on with the negotiations, and if no arrangement is made with the Russians, the non-aggression pact becomes impossible. M. Barthou, head of the French delegation to the economic conference and vice-premier in the French cabinet, said to the American and English newspaper correspondents today.

Mr. and Mrs. Strathmore J. Owens have returned from a visit to St. Augustine, Fla., where Mr. Owens went to recuperate from a recent operation. He is much improved in health.

state Legislature. She declared that it had been unjustly blamed and that it was in fact the best legislature that she had ever known. It accomplished, she said, more for social progress than had been done by any former Legislature, and she stressed the fact that this was not without connection with the new participation of women in the politics of the state.

The conference was, as usual, delighted with Dr. Barrett and her epigrammatic address to the convention.

The first session of the convention closed with prayer and the benediction pronounced by the Rev. Dr. James M. Shelburne, pastor of the First Baptist church of Danville.

The programme for this afternoon and tonight is as follows:

Big Crowd Hears Rev. Ben Edwards

The large auditorium of the Jefferson Avenue Christian church was taxed to its utmost capacity last night to hear Rev. Ben M. Edwards. In view of Danville's numerous activities and counter attractions during the last 10 days, the interest cumulative in the Edwards-Pollock evangelistic series.

Evangelist Edwards' message and appeal seem especially effective of the young people in the prime of life—people from 20 to 30 years of age. In Danville, as in other cities where he has conducted revivals, the larger percentage of conversions under his ministry has been among men and women of this age.

Last night the evangelist quoted as a text a tragic sentence from Jeremiah recorded in the 5th chapter of his prophecy at the 20th verse: "The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved." The message was a tremendous indictment of the sin and peril of ingratitude and unbelief, illustrated and dramatized by concrete modern cases of men and women who had deliberately resisted the truth and postponed definite commitment to God the fully informed and the spirit's call.

One of the outstanding features of this service, as of all the services in this series of meetings, was the singing of B. W. Pollock and his splendid leadership of the congregational singing.

The series will close Tuesday night.

Lady Astor's Remarks on Prohibition Get Home

The following copyrighted special from London regarding Lady Astor's remarks on prohibition will be read here with interest in view of her coming here on Friday that it would take more than a generation for prohibition to become effective.

LONDON, May 6.—Citizens of Plymouth, a well-known resident of that borough, told The New York Times he had heard with amazement of Lady Astor's remark that Lady Astor had them "in her pocket."

Pock boroughs are out of date in British Parliamentarian life, and if they have pockets, and Lady Astor in her vivacious talks in America is giving some of her supporters a good deal of cause for thought.

No one denies the generosity with which she has supported Plymouth charities, but even the command of many dollars does not in their opinion, warrant her interfering with the public's private habits. When she stood for Parliament, she advocated temperance, not total prohibition, and her recent remarks concerning prohibition are causing many of her constituents a good deal of uneasiness.

STEEL BEAMS FOR TEMPLE ARE HERE

The structural steel beams for the Masonic Temple, which those who six weeks ago were sent back to Roanoke as not coming up to specifications, have arrived, and it is expected that little time will be lost in completing the concrete pouring operation. The concrete pouring operation and the roof remains to be put on the handsome building. It was said today that by June 1st the roof would have been poured and that thereafter the workmen would concentrate on the terra cotta and brick work.

Earl D. Gregory For Hall Of Fame

Earl D. Gregory, of Chase City, now a student at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, has been named by Governor Lee Trinkle as a member of the "Living Hall of Fame," a group of veterans being selected for special honor when the annual convention of the disabled American soldiers of the world war is held in San Francisco, June 26 to 30.

Gregory, who was recommended for this honor by the Virginia department of the American Legion, was formerly a sergeant in the Twenty-ninth division, serving with gallantry while overseas. He holds the distinction of being the only Virginian holding a congressional medal of honor.

Gregory's recommendation was made to the governor through Dr. Junius F. Lynch, of Norfolk, department commander of the American Legion.

Among the other candidates for the honor was Sergeant S. L. Gluckman.

He was backed by the Portsmouth Post, No. 37, American Legion, who served in the marines with distinction during the war, and who has been recommended for the congressional medal of honor for his services.

If Kidneys and Bladder Bother

Start with Nature's Herb and Roots to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Acids

Help your kidneys—don't overtax them. Lighten your diet a little, eat meat; drink lots of water—and milk, avoid rich food.

Our blood is filled with uric acid and toxins which the kidneys strive to filter out. They weaken from overwork, become sluggish, thus the pores get clogged and create all sorts of distress resulting in kidney trouble or bladder weakness and eventually in Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel! If you have the slightest pain in the kidney region don't neglect it or delay. Flush your kidneys with this restorative so that they may regain their normal activity. Dr. Carey's PRESCRIPTION NO. 777 also neutralizes irritating acids, thus easing bladder weakness. Dr. Carey's PRESCRIPTION NO. 777 is inexpensive, harmless and is made from nature's herbs, roots and barks and is recommended by doctors. It never disappoints and has had 60 years of success for kidney and bladder troubles. All druggists have Dr. Carey's PRESCRIPTION NO. 777. Mrs. W. W. Brooks Passes To Reward

The death occurred Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock of Mrs. W. W. Brooks at her home on Holbrook avenue, at the age of 83 years. Death was due to the infirmities of age. Until only a few days before her death, Mrs. Brooks appeared in her usual health, but as soon as she began to decline, she gradually weakened and passed away at the above-mentioned time. Deceased was beloved by all who knew her. She has been a member of the Baptist church since childhood. Besides her husband, she is survived by four sons, Charles Brooks, of Danville; John Brooks, of Richmond, and George and Lawrence Brooks, of Lynchburg. She also leaves a brother, Bennett Haden, of Mount Cross.

The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence, the services to be conducted by Rev. Robert Dodd, assisted by the Rev. Spangle. Interment will be made in Mountain View cemetery.

—Mrs. Lindsay Patterson, of Winston-Salem, is the guest of Mrs. W. T. Harris.

Lloyd George Offers a Big Loan As An Inducement to Meet Allied Memorandum.

(By The Associated Press.)
GENOA, May 6.—Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Minister Schoenlank addressed a strong appeal today to the Russian representatives at the economic conference urging them to accept the allied memorandum's main points and promising Russia an international loan, with the understanding that the lending countries would thus provide funds for the reconstruction of Russia. He declared that the Russians asked 25 times for a loan offer.

Millionaire, After Long Search, Finds His Son In a Virginia City

RICHMOND, May 7.—Bernard Kerrick, aged 14, believed to have been an orphan and adopted by Richard S. Kerrick, Richmond, has left the city. For 14 years the father of the boy, a millionaire, has been searching for him. The story is that the former wife of the wealthy tobacco magnate, divorced, had hidden the child, and detectives have been seeking to get a trace of him since that time. The boy was employed in a local establishment at $1 a day.

The father appeared at the home of Kerrick's day or two ago and had a talk with the foster-father and mother, and the identity of the child was established. The man then handed to Mrs. Kerrick a check for $2,000 and took the boy away, first giving him $10 for pocket change.

The boy, who came to know Mrs. Kerrick as his mother, gave the money to her. Mr. and Mrs. Kerrick decline to make known any of the facts in the matter, saying that they must remain in the confidence of the man, but the fact is that the boy is gone, he is to be given a complete education, and when he shall have reached the age of 21 he will inherit several millions of dollars.

The story is that his father may be a resident of either a North Carolina town, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore or Washington. It is known that he is not dependent on his daily labor for his bread. Within the last month he has been seen by those who know him, the boy's mother, having remarried, was travelling in the south and was killed in an automobile accident. The foster parents of the boy will not make Reel Romance, Or Real Romance, For Peggy and Jack?

LATEST PICTURE OF PEGGY HOPKINS JOYCE

PARIS, May 8.—The world's greatest silent and the world's greatest prize fighter—will they undertake a reel romance and may it become a real romance?

Paris is wondering. Peggy Joyce and Jack Dempsey are considering overtures to co-star in a movie. Both are reported seriously interested. Dempsey is said to have given more than passing attention to this American chorus girl, who has tramped ruthlessly on the hearts of many millionaires.

Acquaintances of both are asking, would Peggy find a suitable mate in Dempsey? They think so. But Dempsey fans fear her exactions would ruin the fast career of their idol, should he be lured by her caresses.

Peggy, though, says she is done with him—she is a lover.

The romance—the suicide the other day of William Errazuriz, the young Chilean, who married, who killed himself because she refused to accept his advances, but told him she was devoted to Henri Letellier, the French editor.

Letellier was named in the divorce suit of Peggy's third husband, Count Dempsey, who where three millionaires have failed.

Peggy married Everett A. Archibald, a Denver millionaire, when she was 17. The husband soon got a divorce in Idaho.

Her second husband, Hopkins was next. He was a Washington lawyer representing wealthy Mexican oil interests. One glance at Peggy and he lost his heart. As soon as he got his divorce from his wife, he married Peggy.

She ran away from him two years later and went on the stage. She explained that millionaires were horrid things, all wrapped up in coupons and bonds and never with time for anything but business. It was love that she wanted.

Along came James Stanley Joyce, Chicago lumberman. The morning after he met Peggy he sent her a truckload of roses and a $150,000 diamond ring.

As soon as the Hopkins divorce was settled, Joyce married Peggy.

They went abroad on their honeymoon. But the husband returned alone.

Peggy was too much in demand. So he started divorce proceedings, naming a long list of co-respondents, including a prince, a dancer, a duke, a New York restaurant keeper, and a lawyer.

The divorce was granted last November. Peggy received a million and a quarter dollars for her settlement. Since then she has been living in Paris.

NEGRO ROUTS MOB WHICH ATTACKS HIM

ATHENS, Ga., May 6.—Reports received here tonight from Statham, a small town near here, state that Asa Carter, negro, was attacked by a mob of 15 men, thought to be white, who broke down the doors to his home, firing a fusillade of shots at him.

The negro is reported to have returned the fire using a shot-gun, when the attacking party withdrew. He sustained a serious bullet wound. No one has been assigned to the attack. Leading citizens here characterize it as an "unfortunate occurrence."

NEW GOVERNOR OF BERMUDA IS WELL HONORED

HAMILTON, Bermuda, May 6.—General Sir James Willcocks, the most decorated man in the British army, is to be succeeded as Governor of Bermuda by Lieutenant General Sir John Joseph Asser, advices received here today.

Sir James Willcocks has arranged to return to England by direct steamer, leaving here June 2. The date of the arrival of the new Governor has not been determined.

Sir John Joseph Asser was born in 1867, entered the British army in 1887, was attached to the Nile Expedition in 1897-98, was present at the battles of Athara and Khiroum and commanded the Sudan Expedition 1898.

Although he had retired from the army when the world war began he rejoined and was placed as commander of an area.

In 1901, Sir John Joseph Asser married Lelia, daughter of James W. Thompson, of New York.

GRETTA NEWS

GRETTA, Va., May 7.—Mayor D. E. Webb sustained a very painful injury Friday morning about 9 o'clock by falling on the sidewalk in front of the bank. He was unable to secure a doctor for about three hours during which time he suffered considerably. He was taken to Jefferson Memorial hospital, Roanoke, by Dr. O. L. Ramsey, where an X-ray will show a broken hip. Mrs. Webb accompanied him to Roanoke. Mr. Webb seems to have been very unfortunate as to accidents. He has been thrown from horse back on two different occasions which caused very painful injuries, one of which caused a broken shoulder. He had one leg so badly crushed by a railroad engine when he was 16 years old that it necessitated its amputation above the knee. It was on the side of which he wore an artificial leg that he sustained his recent injury.

Several of the Gretna citizens were in Danville Friday to see Lady Astor. Many of the townspeople were at the station Saturday morning to see her on train No. 44 while enroute to Evinston.

J. L. Shelby, formerly of High Point, N. C., who has been with B. R. Powell Co. for the past several months has gone to Hopewell, Va., where his friends wish for much success in his new business. Mr. Shelby is a splendid salesman and made many warm friends while in Gretna. His wife preceded him to Petersburg where she has been confined in a hospital.

Mr. Whit Dalton, formerly of near Gretna but who had lived in Altaville for the past several months, died at his home Wednesday morning and was buried at the old Dalton cemetery near Sycamore, Thursday afternoon.

There seem to be conflicting reports as to the cause of his death but from the best information obtainable, the direct cause of his death was from a fight in which he was engaged in last Sunday evening, in which he received a severe blow and which is thought to have caused paralysis.

The large storage building of B. R. Powell which was destroyed by fire recently is being rapidly rebuilt and is expected to be ready for occupancy within the next few days.

Mr. Tommy Shelton, head mechanic at Right Motor Company, is recuperating from an operation for appendicitis in Jefferson Memorial hospital, Roanoke.

Charles Carter of Chalk Level, who was again operated upon in Jefferson Memorial hospital, New Jersey, recently, is reported as having withstood the operation well.

Mrs. Mollie Bennett, of Charlottesville, and her daughter Mrs. Henry LaPrade of Lynchburg, were guests of friends and relatives in town this week.

Major Barber and family have been confined to their rooms with flu for the past several days but are at present improving.

SIX RECORDS BROKEN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 6.—Six records were broken here today in track and field games in the Birmingham Athletic Club's twelfth annual track and field meet. Mississippi A. and M. won today's meet by scoring 52 points. Georgia Tech was next with 30 1-2, while the Birmingham Athletic Club scored 14. The games today were the first sanctioned track and field events of the new Southeastern A. A. U., and all marks made stand as records of the association until battered.

COCKROACHES RUN RACES

ATTACHED TO SULKIES

(From the Saturday Evening Post)
 Russian refugees in Constantinople turn their hands to all sorts of money-making devices. The latest and most successful are cockroach races. These are held in rooms which the Russians hire along the Grand Rue de Pera.

In the center of each room is a large table with a miniature race track built on it. The owner places a box at one end of the track and waits until his patrons have "made their bets on five cockroaches." Then he opens the box and discloses five enormous cockroaches attached to diminutive sulkies.

As the box is opened four of the contestants may start briskly, around the track while the fifth may turn abruptly and center in the wrong direction amid heartbreaking screams from those who are lacking in color.

Then the leader of the four racers who are headed in the right direction may stop short and twiddle his feelers pensively and the other three may also stop and cluster around him to investigate the cause of the delay.

While this conference is in progress the cockroach that started the wrong way may change his mind, turn and come dashing past the four idlers with his eyes rolling and his tail up.

Then the four idlers may recover from their momentary ennui, so briskly up the track again and pass the fifth contestant, who has probably fallen into brown study and leaned up against the race track wall with crossed legs and weakly waving feelers.

And so it goes, until one of the cockroaches finally pulls himself together and scuttles across the finish line.

Man first had an opportunity to call "heads or tails" more than 2,200 years ago, when the practice of stamping a head on coins was instituted by the Greeks, with the likeness of Alexander the Great.

Some of these ancient Greek coins are valuable as art objects alone, the embossing being of rare workmanship and surpassing anything to be seen on the coinage of today. It is naturally an example of the great height which Greek culture reached in that day.

The court of civilization, in fact, can easily be traced in these coins. The Roman coinage, some of which bears the head of Nero, is not equal in beauty to that of the Greeks, but nevertheless shows a high quality of art.

But the money of the succeeding dark ages is crude in the extreme, and even the English 10-cent piece of 1,000 A. D. is childishly primitive in comparison.

MARSH FURNISHES HIS BOND OF $1,000

CARTHAGE, N. C., May 6.—Charles G. Marsh, automobile dealer, held in connection with the death of Former Mayor John Underwood of Fayetteville, killed when an automobile driven by Marsh was overturned near here yesterday morning, was released today on bond of one thousand dollars.

Marsh was released by Sheriff E. A. Blue, upon instructions of Solicitor M. W. Nash, of Hamlet and left immediately for his home at Fayetteville. He was suffering from painful cuts about the face and head caused by broken glass from the windshield.

DR. COLES OFF FOR THE COAST

Dr. Russell J. Coles, leaf tobacco dealer, deep-sea fisherman and marine naturalist, left Saturday night for the coast of North Carolina, near Morehead City, where he will spend his vacation fishing, boating and hunting for scientific specimens. He has a comfortable house boat there which he stocks with provisions and supplies of every desired kind, a large sea-going launch and several small boats, and he finds the companions of his short voyages among the fisher folk of the vicinity. He is prepared to entertain visitors who may accept his invitations and has had some distinguished ones in other summers.

AUSTIN POWELL

A marriage of interest to their many friends was that of Miss Esther Powell to Robert Austin, which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock by the Rev. O. B. Newton, at Cabell street parsonage. This happy couple has a bright future, each possessing the essential qualities for a successful career.

CORBETT FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

ORANBURG, S. C., May 5.—Carlos Corbett was found guilty of manslaughter here tonight by a jury which tried him on charge of the murder of Julian Cooper, one of three men whom Corbett shot to death one night at his home near here two years ago.

The verdict carries a sentence of ten to thirty years at the discretion of the court. Judge Bowman deferred imposing sentence until Monday.

Corbett who claimed he shot in self defense, showed no emotion when the verdict was read. He was acquitted shortly after the killings when tried for the murder of Bryan Sallee, another of the men killed, and has never been brought to trial on the third case, that of Hugh Kainle, Jones Sallee and Lewis Sallee, who were among the men Corbett shot at, the former was blinded while the latter was the only one of the quintet to come through unscathed.

Corbett told the jury the men had fired dry came in front of his farm house on the night of March 27, 1920 and when he rushed out to fight the fire they started shooting at them. The state claimed he had held a grudge against the men and had previously threatened to "get them" and that they were unarmed.

MIKE FINN DIES OF HEART FAILURE

OMAHA, Neb., May 5.—Michael J. Finn, 51, part owner and business manager of the Omaha Western League, baseball club, pitched forward in his seat at today's game with Tulsa and died without regaining consciousness. Heart failure was given as the cause.

Mr. Finn and his family arrived in Omaha only last night from Hot Springs, Ark., where he was recuperating from a heart attack. He attended today's game against the Tulsa team, who said tonight he did not think he was strong enough to withstand the excitement. After Mr. Finn's death the game was called.

For eleven years Mr. Finn was connected in a managerial capacity with Southern Association clubs, being with Little Rock seven years, Memphis two years and Mobile two years.

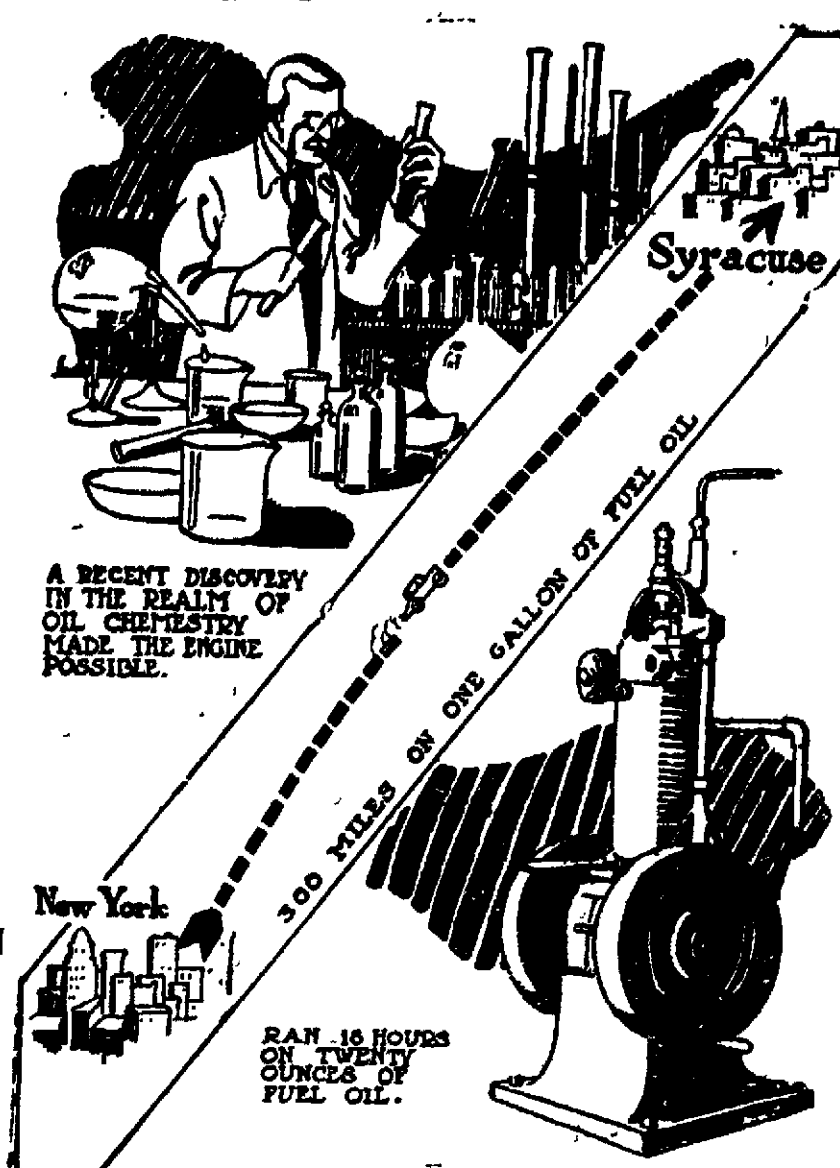

PEONY NAMED ASTOR FOR LADY ASTOR

S. E. Holland, 161 Gray street, who has for some years been quite successful in growing peonies presented a very handsome blossom to Lady Astor, at the Memorial Mansion. Mr. Holland's little speech, in the parlor of the Mansion, was unique, and rather in keeping with the trend of the day, and especially in harmony with Lady Astor's speech, from the Gwynn residence earlier in the day.

MONEY FOR HOSPITAL

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Through passage by the Senate congressional action was completed today on the bill making immediate available $12,000,000 for construction of hospitals for former service men as a part of a program calling eventually for the expenditure of $17,000,000. The measure, which was passed yesterday by the House, was put through a record vote and without debate within a few hours after it had been reported out by the appropriations committee.

FIFTY FIVE MILES ON A CENT! ENGINE DOES IT

THE ELMER O. LENGINE, NEW MECHANICAL MARVEL, AND SOME OF THE THINGS IT CAN ACCOMPLISH.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 5.—Pay five and one-half cents for a gallon of fuel oil.

Put it in the gas tank of your auto. And travel 300 miles!

You can do that with a new oil engine, just perfected here by H. H. Elmer, the inventor says—and tests bear out his claims.

Experts who've looked here to inspect the new device declare it will turn the automobile world inside out and may bring automobile travel within the reach of the poorest.

Besides, they predict, it will cheapen transportation and cut down the prices of many manufactured articles for the engine can be used to operate machinery as well as to run an automobile or truck.

Elmer's engine is based on the new chemical discoveries. It has been learned that oil—mineral, vegetable and animal—contains elements with the concentrated power of a blast of TNT.

The new engine is simply a device for separating that power from the other elements in the oil and converting it to a productive end. Starting features of the engine are:

Entire mechanism consists of but three adjustments.

It can be run at 3,000 revolutions a minute and can be throttled down to 100 revolutions almost instantaneously.

A single-cylinder, three-horsepower model has run 18 consecutive hours on 20 ounces of fuel oil.

Engines built for the heaviest work will weigh only 350 pounds. Auto engines of other types often weigh 600.

It will be 60 per cent. cheaper to produce than engines now used.

It requires no spark, carburetor or other kind of ignition.

"The engine is a marvel of simplicity," Elmer says. "When you realize a Diesel engine has 12,000 parts you'll know it means something to simplify an engine to 64 parts, including all screws."

Elmer expects to have his engine on the market within 60 days. He will manufacture five different types

MAN IS HELD FOR ABDUCTING SISTER OF WIFE

ATHENS, Ga., May 5.—Parvin E. Thornton, ex-service man, charged with white slavery in connection with the alleged abduction of the 12-year-old sister of his wife last December, is still being held in jail at Lexington, State charges not having been released as was contemplated here early in the week.

A federal deputy marshal stated tonight that as soon as the State charges of kidnapping are dismissed, Thornton will be brought to Athens for a hearing in the federal court.

KILLED JUST BEFORE WEDDING BY CURRENT

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., May 5.—William M. Byrd, lineman for the local electric company, finishing his work here today, preparatory to leaving for his home in Maryland, Tennessee, to marry a Miss Goddard, was instantly killed by coming in contact with a high voltage wire. With another lineman, he was connecting wires to a motor in a local theatre, when he caught a telephone cable while standing on a wire carrying 2,300 volts. His body was shipped to his home town on the train he intended taking to meet his bride. He was 21 years old, had been an electrician for several years, but employed here only three months. He had just secured a position in Maryland.

ARABS DOPE FISH TO CATCH THEM

LONDON, May 6.—A novel way of catching fish by Arabs was described by Lieutenant-Commander A. S. Elwell-Button in describing the work of the British gun-boats on the river Tigris above Bagdad.

The natives there, he said, laid a groundbat of lumps of dough containing a small quantity of opium. The fish swallowed that and, becoming stupefied, floated above with their white bellies upmost. Arabs went in pursuit of them on blow-out sheepskins which they manoeuvred with their feet whilst the hands were free to hold the landing net.

NAT GOLDSTEIN APPOINTMENT IS OPENLY ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Consolidated with reports of some Senate Republican leaders to obtain the withdrawal of the nomination of Nat Goldstein to be internal revenue collector at St. Louis because of his receipt of $2,500 during the last Republican national convention from the campaign funds of Governor Lowden, an open attack was launched today in the Senate upon the Goldstein and other administration appointments by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi.

While the Senate discussion was in progress, it was said at the White House that President Harding neither boasted of nor apologized for his nominations. This was the only comment forthcoming from the White House on the case.

Charging the use of "corrupt funds" in Missouri in 1920 by both the Harding and Lowden forces, Senator Harrison named three other Missouri recipients of what he characterized as "Lowden money," who were subsequently appointed to federal positions. Those named were Roy T. Davis, minister to Costa Rica; W. H. Allen, Missouri State prohibition agent, and W. L. Cole, special assistant to Attorney General Daugherty. He also referred to E. L. Morse as the "paymaster for Missouri" of the campaign of former Governor Lowden, of Illinois, but said Mr. Morse had not yet received a federal appointment.

Ten men who had "received money for corrupt purposes," had been "picked out by this administration for high positions and good jobs," the Mississippi senator declared, and again announced he would demand open sessions for consideration, or confirmation of the Goldstein nomination.

Mr. J. A. Stanford, who was operated upon recently at General hospital is steadily improving.

Anton Lang Has Refused Offer

First Passion Play Since 1910 Will Be Given at Oberunmagan This Week.

BERLIN, May 7.—With the opening this coming week of the first season of the Passion Play since 1910, the vanguard of Americans booked to see it already have arrived in Berlin on their way to Oberunmagan. Reports from that little Bavarian village, which has been off the tourist route for 12 years, indicate that preparations have been nearly completed to accommodate a record gathering for the current revival. Approximately 800 newspaper correspondents have been invited for next Monday's press performance, after which dress rehearsals will be held for two days in preparation for the formal opening on May 14.

Visitors this year find a striking significance in the origin of the play because of the recent prevalence of contagious diseases resulting from the famine in Russia. It was due to the terrible pestilence ravaging this country in 1913 that the survivors of Oberunmagan in the following year vowed to give a representation of the life of Christ regularly thereafter as an atonement for their sins. Unusual international interest in this year's revival is manifested. Capacity audiences for all performances have been booked in advance. Advice from Bavaria show that the high character of production, which has characterized the performances for more than 280 years has been maintained, both as to the calibre of the cast and the scenic equipment. The management has been bombarded more than ever with financial schemes, all of which have been declined scrupulously in the spirit of the original vow. The lofty ideal inspiring the cast and producers are further enunciated by the recent rejection by Anton Lang, the leading actor, of the "benedictions and dollars" offered by an American syndicate for him to appear in the United States.

It was proposed that Lang should receive any amount he might make, together with expenses. The offer also emphasized a belief that he would bring a great benefit to the religious community of the United States and that his visit might promote international friendship. It was proposed that the play should be staged, as at Oberunmagan, in a huge open-air theatre in New York, with Lang heading the cast. Whatever profit might be made, the American syndicate proposed, could be devoted to the populace of Oberunmagan.

"The good and friendly people of America," said the proposal, "would receive you with love and send you back with benedictions and dollars."

Lang, an upland villager, replied mostly, thanking the syndicate and expressing appreciation of the spirit of the offer, but declining because to do so would make him feel like "an uprooted tree." He agreed that a new international spirit of kindness should prevail, and that the Passion Play would contribute thereto, but continued:

"I am not a professional actor; I am in Oberunmagan and cannot give up the conditions and traditions of my village. The Passion Play for me is the fulfillment of a vow which our ancestors have given. We shall never forget this fact. Were I to do so, it would undermine the power of religious experience which has enabled me to give my performances, and I would not be able again to properly impersonate the Saviour."

He also revealed the fact that an American offer was rejected in 1914, providing for high weekly salaries for himself and two other members of the cast.

MORE MELONS PLANTED IN 1922

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The acreage plants to watermelons in 1921, producing states this year totals 161,000 acres in nine States as compared with 169,800 harvested acres in 1921, according to estimates made public by the United States department of agriculture. This is an increase of 17 per cent.

Georgia has 57,800 acres this year, a gain of 32 per cent. over the harvested acreage last year. Texas has 37,400 acres, or 29 per cent. more than in 1921. Florida has 35,400 acres, a gain of 89 per cent. Acreages have also increased in South Carolina, Alabama, New Mexico, Arizona, and Southern California. A small decrease was shown in North Carolina.

VIRGINIA WINS DEBATE

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 6.—Debate at the University of South Carolina tonight, the University defeated the University of Georgia by a vote of three to two of the judges.

Columbia Scene Of Sensational Shooting Fray

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 6.—Professor M. Goode Homes, head of the department of engineering of the University of South Carolina was shot and killed by Benjamin Hale, superintendent of grounds of the University, who a few minutes later killed himself by firing a shot in his brain. The double tragedy occurred in the treasurer's office of the University shortly after ten o'clock this morning.

There were no eye witnesses, but Dr. William S. Curran, president, and Dr. Leonard T. Baker, dean, saw the superintendent brandishing a revolver and both were ordered from the office by Hale, a shot being fired over the head of Dean Baker and the weapon being pointed at President Curran although he was not fired upon. The action against the two officers of the university was taken after Professor Homes had been slain and it seems certain that Hale killed himself a few minutes after earning President Curran not to enter the room.

Professor Homes was in the treasurer's office when Marshall Hale entered the room to get a payroll check. He sent the young woman bookkeeper, the only occupant of the room with Professor Homes, to the president's office telling her that Dr. Curran wished to see her.

Dean Baker, who was in a class room on another floor of the building, heard shots and started to enter the treasurer's office to investigate. He was warned by Hale to keep out, the superintendent firing a shot over his head. The dean did not see Professor Homes, believed now to have already been slain in an adjoining room to the main office, with him as he did so President Curran came from his office to investigate. Dean Baker warned the president not to enter the room, telling him that Hale was in there in a crazed condition and firing a pistol. Dr. Curran, however, entered the room to meet with a warning from Hale to keep out, the superintendent pointing his revolver at the president with the statement: "You are responsible for this." The president left the room.

In the meantime police had been summoned and investigation revealed the body of Homes in one room and that Hale in the other.

Homes was shot five times, one bullet penetrating the heart while Hale was shot only once, the bullet entering the brain and causing instant death.

An official statement issued by President Curran says that there had been bitter feeling between the two men for sometime, growing out of a conflict of duties at the university. This feeling has practically existed for a year.

Professor Homes was born in 1883 in Boydton, Virginia, and was educated at the University of Virginia and the United States Military Academy at West Point. He has held many important engineering assignments and stood high in his profession. He is survived by a wife and four small children. Professor Homes has been a member of the University of South Carolina faculty since 1909.

Superintendent Hale came to the University of South Carolina in 1912 from Camden where he was chief of police. He was first marshal and then superintendent of grounds. He was about 44 years of age and is survived by his wife, a son and daughter.

An inquest over the two bodies is being held by the coroner of Richmond county tonight.

At the inquest conducted by Coroner J. B. Scott of Richmond county tonight the jury found that Professor M. Goode Homes was slain by Benjamin Hale while the latter was temporarily insane and that Hale then died by his own hand.

A letter found in a pocket of Hale's coat was read, written by Hale showing that the cause of the tragedy was the differences between the two men growing out of building operations at the University. It was not clear whether this letter was written before or after Hale shot Homes.

Bitter feeling has existed between the two men, it seems for six months or more. It began, shortly after several anonymous letters were written to members of the board of trustees criticizing Professor Homes' position in connection with the letting of contracts for certain minor repairs at the University. These letters and the charges made were investigated by a sub-committee of the board of trustees and Professor Homes' position of all blame. Superintendent Hale also conducted an investigation and this developed the feeling to which the letter left today evidently refers.

KIDDIES' PARADISE! THAT'S WHAT HIS FLAT WILL BE

25 years ago
when he was a youngster—

Perambulator Grates, roof play gardens, permanent see-saws,
for the "kid castle."

There'll be a cash bonus for every new baby and double for twins

HARRY I. DALSEY

BY ROY GIBBONS

CHICAGO, May 8.—Harry I. Dalsey had 12 reasons for building a $300,000 apartment house here which he designed especially for families having large numbers of children.

He was one of them, and his brothers and sisters constituted the remaining 11.

Dalsey today is a prosperous architect. But 25 years ago when he was just a youngster, he remembers countless landlords refusing his own parents a place to rent merely because they had a large family.

Plans for Revenge

"Wait till I get big," Dalsey frequently remarked during those days, "I'll fix them then."

His threat was intended for all the landlords in general.

And now I am going to have my revenge," he says.

The "kid castle," which he designed and is erecting for both "love and spite" will have special "perambulator or garages," roof play gardens, rocking horses, permanent see-saws and other delights for his juvenile tenants.

And what is more, Dalsey stipulates in the lease that for every time Mr. Stork leaves one new baby there'll be a cash bonus of $25 and double that amount for twins.

The apartment house is going up in an exclusive section of the town from which children are usually barred.

More the Merrier

"There'll be 33 flats in the place and I hope I draw couples with at least five children each," Dalsey says.

"The more the merrier. I just love kids. They make a place look human."

"I hope the neighbors holler. It'll do 'em good. I've waited 30 years to put this over and now's my chance."

Dalsey isn't married.

Police Chief Kills

Woman Companion

ASHEVILLE, N. C., May 6.—Mrs. Anna Smathers, 34, a telephone operator at Oteen Public Health Service hospital, was shot and instantly killed by William W. Campbell, chief of police at Oteen, shortly before noon today.

The shooting took place on the Fairview road at a point about eight miles from Asheville where the two had ridden in Campbell's automobile, apparently on a friendly outing.

Immediately afterward Campbell gave himself up to the city police, admitting the shooting. He was unable to ascribe a motive, and said he "could not understand how it happened."

He is being held in jail without bond, charged with murder.

Police investigating the tragedy, have been unable to connect a motive with the woman killing. Campbell had been paying the young woman attention, he said.

Six shots were fired, according to the small son of R. H. Luther, and investigation by Coroner E. R. Morris showed that five had taken effect, two in the center of the forehead, one in the right temple and two in the left breast. A .35-caliber pistol was used.

Strangers Seek "Real Stuff" in William J. Bryan's Room

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 7.—When stranger after stranger to the number of 13 had knocked at the door of W. J. Bryan's hotel room early today, inquiring if "the real stuff" was for sale there, Mr. Bryan made a complaint to the clerk.

He discovered he had by accident registered at a hotel where a large number of his friends were attending a convention, and joined with them in the laugh over their joke. With his wife, Mr. Bryan is en route by automobile to California.

Search Made in Virginia For Highwaymen Band

WINCHESTER, Va., May 7.—A wide-spread search is being conducted by the police for the band of masked highwaymen who early today held up and robbed Benjamin F. Liggett, a merchant of this city on the Winchester-Bluemont pike. Liggett was forced to halt his car about four miles from Winchester when a log was suddenly thrown across the road ahead of him. He said two men covered him with revolvers while a third rifled his pockets.
